Who It Is For

---

-  Small businesses creating branded packaging
-  Office users printing address labels
-  Marketing teams designing product tags
-  Printers needing reliable label stock
-  Retailers labeling inventory items
-  Event planners creating signage labels

Who It Is Not For

-  Users requiring matte finish labels
-  Those needing labels for curved surfaces
-  People with limited printer compatibility
-  Customers wanting removable adhesive
-  Users needing labels smaller than 2 inches
-  Those requiring labels for outdoor use

Trade Offs to Consider

---

-  Glossy finish may show fingerprints
-  Permanent adhesive is not repositionable
-  Fixed 2-inch size limits customization
-  Requires drying time after printing
-  Not suitable for high-moisture environments
-  Limited color options compared to custom prints

How It Compares

- Better than matte labels for visibility
- Less flexible than custom-printed options
- More durable than standard paper labels
- More expensive than basic label sheets
- Easier to apply than square labels
- Less versatile than roll labels

Choose This If...

- ✓ Need glossy, eye-catching labels
- ✓ Use laser or inkjet printers
- ✓ Want reliable print results
- ✓ Require permanent adhesive
- ✓ Need 2-inch round labels
- ✓ Print custom designs for branding
