Who It Is For

- ✓ Users with S420 printer needing 4x6 prints
- ✓ Photographers requiring 100 print capacity
- ✓ Those needing glossy photo paper
- ✓ Users storing prints in climate-controlled environments

Who It Is Not For

- ✗ Users with non-S420 printers
- ✗ Those needing more than 100 prints
- ✗ Users requiring chip-enabled ribbons
- ✗ People needing faster print speeds

Trade Offs to Consider

---

- Limited to 100 prints per cartridge
- Requires firmware update for optimal performance
- No chip support for automatic printing
- Storage conditions restrict environmental flexibility

How It Compares

- Compared to other S420 kits with higher print counts
- Versus chip-enabled ribbons with automatic printing
- Against 4x6 kits with different paper finishes
- Alternative to 4x6 photo paper with lower brightness

Choose This If...

---

- ✓ You have an S420 printer
- ✓ Need 100 4x6 photo prints
- ✓ Require glossy paper finish
- ✓ Can store prints in controlled environments

Skip This If...

- ✗ You need more than 100 prints
- ✗ Require chip-enabled ribbons
- ✗ Need faster print speeds
- ✗ Have non-S420 printer compatibility
